Laura Stukel

Laura Stukel is a third-generation Realtor® with L.W. Reedy Real Estate in Elmhurst, Illinois. For more than seven years Laura has worked to bridge information about home performance. She works with groups such as the Appraisal Institute, Council of MLS and Realtors Property Resource®.

Laura is an active member of the National Association of Realtors®. She serves on the Mainstreet Organization of Realtors® board of directors, and is authoring NAR's Green MLS technical implementation guide. She is also a real estate consultant to Elevate Energy in Chicago where she manages the Value for High Performance Homes Campaign.

Sandra Adomatis

Sandra is a national speaker on the topic of Green and Energy Efficient House Values. She represents the Appraisal Institute at conferences such as the National Association of Home Builders, United States Green Building Council (USGBC), and various other groups around the U.S.

She is the author of the newly published Residential Green Valuation Tools, available through the Appraisal Institute. Sandra is the owner of Adomatis Appraisal Service of Punta Gorda, FL. where she is actively involved in valuing residential and commercial properties.

Craig Foley

Craig Foley is the Chief of Energy Solutions for RE/MAX Leading Edge, and a Co-Founder of inCharge Energy. Craig's combination of real estate and energy management skills give him a unique perspective about sustainable energy solutions. Craig was one of five people in the U.S. to receive the EverGreen Award by the NAR Green Resource Council in 2013.

Craig serves as the Advocacy Coordinator for the MA Chapter of the U.S. Green Building Council USGBC. He also advocates on behalf of residential and commercial rate-payers with the Consumer Liaison Group of ISO New England. Craig serves as an Advisory Board member of the NAR Green Resource Council. He serves on NAR's Land Use, Privacy Rights, and Environment Committee.
