Peter Shumlin
81ST GOVERNOR OF VERMONT

As the Vermont Housing Finance Agency (VHFA) reports on its activities of the past Fiscal Year, it is also looking forward to its bright future. This coming year VHFA will celebrate its 40th anniversary of serving low- and moderate-income Vermonters. Over the course of VHFA's history in our state, we have seen Vermont's population increase by 40 percent, and yet throughout this period we have maintained a high level of homeownership and a commitment to affordability, as we have invested in our community centers and worked to improve the aging housing stock. VHFA has been a critical player in achieving these policy goals.

When I drive through our state's downtowns I can see the clear mark of the Agency's work. VHFA has made investments to help turn around struggling downtowns like Guildford and to rebuild neighborhoods destroyed by fire in places like Enosburg. VHFA's important work has enriched our communities and has a positive effect on all of us.

Over the course of its first 40 years VHFA has assisted 28,000 homebuyers, the majority of whom were first time buyers. VHFA has spearheaded innovative projects such as the state's Housing Awareness Campaign, while maintaining a high quality portfolio of loans to serve lower income Vermonters.

I am very proud of the work of the Vermont Housing Finance Agency and its impact on our great state. I look forward to its continued success in the next 40 years.

Sincerely,

Peter Shumlin
Governor

The pages of this report describe the Vermont Housing Finance Agency's efforts of this past fiscal year. They also provide a trip down memory lane since the report reviews VHFA's role supporting the housing needs of thousands of Vermonters over the Agency's first 40 years.

VHFA was created on April 11, 1974 by an act of the legislature during a time when affordable homeownership was a deep concern throughout Vermont. The 1970s were a period of rising home prices and increasing interest rates. Across the country, states' ability to respond to the need for affordable housing was expanded with the creation of Housing Finance Agencies (HFAs). Many HFAs were created in the 1970s and, like VHFA, charged with the authority to sell tax-exempt bonds to finance affordable housing. The introduction of VHFA home mortgages enabled lower income Vermonters to purchase homes and achieve financial security.

During this same time the federal government was directly funding the creation of publically subsidized affordable rental housing across the country. Tax laws in effect during the 1970s enabled private capital to fund limited partnerships which developed the housing. Starting in 1977, VHFA began using its tax exempt bonding authority to provide additional funding. Affordable rental housing was - and remains - crucial in meeting the needs of the most vulnerable Vermonters. As a result of VHFA's stewardship, all of the properties from Brattleboro to Burlington initially funded more than 40 years ago are still housing working Vermonters today. In addition to ensuring the maintenance of affordable rental housing, VHFA has continued to support the development and financing of public and private quality housing throughout the State.

VHFA has worked tirelessly for 40 years with the goal of making Vermont housing affordable and accessible. We are ready to continue this work well beyond our 40th anniversary in April, to support the Vermonters who need us most.

Spotlight on Staff

David Adams Inducted into the New England Mortgage Bankers Hall of Fame

VHFA's Chief of Program Operations, David Adams, was inducted into the New England Mortgage Bankers Hall of Fame in September 2012. Hall of Fame induction is the highest honor bestowed peer-to-peer for New England mortgage banking professionals. It highlights the outstanding contributions inductees have made to the New England mortgage banking industry over the past 25 years and to the communities they serve.

Being selected "is a humbling experience," Adams said. He attributes much of his success to those he's worked with since he began his career in 1969. Since joining VHFA in 1999, Adams has been overseeing its homeownership, development, and multifamily management departments. Prior to that, Adams worked at Vermont Federal Bank and Vermont National Bank.

Pat Loller Named Human Resources Professional of the Year

VHFA's Director of Administration, Patricia Loller, was named Vermont's Human Resources Professional of the Year by the Society of Human Resources Management's Vermont State Council.

Pat has been at VHFA for over 15 years. During this time she helped guide the agency through transition and reorganization in her role first leading the IT department and then in an expanded role that covers all administrative operations, including human resources. With "her usual diligence, attention to detail and grace, Pat's leadership in these areas has helped VHFA become a model place to be employed," explained Executive Director Sarah Carpenter.

Sam Falzone Honored by New England Affordable Housing Management Assoc.

The New England Affordable Housing Management Association (NEAHMA) honored Sam Falzone, VHFA's Director of Multifamily Programs at their 25th Annual Conference. Sam was chosen as this year's Agency Staff Person of the Year. Sam was an original NEAHMA Board member in 1989 and has maintained his support for this prominent New England training organization for many years.

Sam has been the Multifamily Program Director at VHFA since 1991 and been with the Agency since 1979 where his major focus has been on preservation of Vermont's affordable housing.

Maura Collins Named Top-40-Under-40 in Vermont

VHFA's Maura Collins received a Rising Star award from the Vermont Business Magazine in 2012. Rising Star awards recognize 40 of Vermont's most accomplished young leaders, all of whom are younger than 40. Maura has led VHFA's policy and planning initiatives for the past six years and prior to that forged new roads for the Agency in housing research and data sharing. "Among all the players who build, operate, and finance housing, Maura has emerged as one of the state's most effective coalition builders and communicators," commented Sarah Carpenter, VHFA's Executive Director. "Maura's focus and passion for an issue as critical as affordable housing has benefited low-and moderate-income residents across the state." ■

Agency Accomplishments

Down Payment and Closing Cost Assistance

In April 2013, VHFA began offering down payment and closing assistance grants to qualified home buyers for the first time since before the housing crisis. The grants are available through the MOVE ASSIST program as well as to borrowers who qualify for a VHFA first mortgage insured by USDA Rural Development or the Veterans Association.

The grants enable qualified low- to moderate-income Vermonters to clear one of the most difficult barriers to buying a home – accumulating the required down payment or funds to pay closing costs.

State Housing Credits Expanded for Manufactured Housing Loan Program

After Tropical Storm Irene, 561 mobile home owners in Vermont were left with damaged or destroyed homes. Although funding became available through FEMA and private donations, many displaced mobile home owners could not access enough money to purchase affordable and energy efficient replacement homes.

The legislature authorized VHFA to allocate additional Affordable Housing Homeownership Tax Credit funding to assist low-income Vermonters to purchase or repair mobile homes, prioritizing those displaced by Tropical Storm Irene. VHFA, in partnership with the Champlain Housing Trust and the statewide network of Neighborworks Home Ownership Centers, created the Manufactured Housing Loan Program to provide 0% second mortgages to income qualified households to purchase new energy efficient mobile homes using the equity generated by the state tax credit.

Preserving Vermont's Affordable Rental Housing Stock

VHFA's pro-active planning, financial support and teamwork with partner agencies paid off in FY 2013 when two affordable rental housing locations in Burlington's desirable waterfront neighborhood were preserved for the long-term. Since the 1980s, Wharf Lane and Bobbin Mill Apartments have been home to many area households whose incomes are not sufficient to afford prevailing market rate rents.

The preservation agreements that VHFA negotiated with the owner of both properties in 2001 paved the way for the Burlington Housing Authority to acquire them and ensure their continued availability to lower income Vermont renters. This fiscal year VHFA provided construction financing and a $1.95 million permanent loan for the building's purchase and renovation. Although VHFA has been involved in the preservation of many rental properties statewide, these two are especially important successes due to their location near the waterfront and high real estate prices in the surrounding neighborhood.

Housing Conference Focuses on the Future of Housing Policy in Vermont

Governor Shumlin opened the November 2012 Statewide Housing Conference by recounting the challenges the state has overcome since the devastation of Tropical Storm Irene. The remainder of this day-long conference featured Vermont's Housing Hero awards and an exciting keynote speaker whose achievements in housing research and federal policy-making are widely acclaimed: Dr. Xavier de Souza Briggs. The Housing Hero awards went to Governor Madeleine Kunin for her commitment as Vermont's Chief Executive to affordable housing when federal support declined during the 1980s and to Shaun Gilpin and the Vermont Mobile Home Program for coordination and work with mobile home residents in the aftermath of Tropical Storm Irene.

VHFA-Maintained Web Sites Brought in House

In addition to its primary web site (www.vhfa.org), VHFA developed and maintains several additional sites that facilitate sharing information relevant to housing in Vermont. These sites include the Vermont Housing Data (www.housingdata.org), Vermont Rental Codes (www.rentalcodes.org), Vermont Housing Managers Association (www.vhma.net) and Vermont Resident Services Coordinators (www.vrsc.org) web sites. In July 2012, VHFA's IT and communications staff worked together to move these sites from an externally-hosted platform to our in-house server. The move provides these sites with greater stability and security.

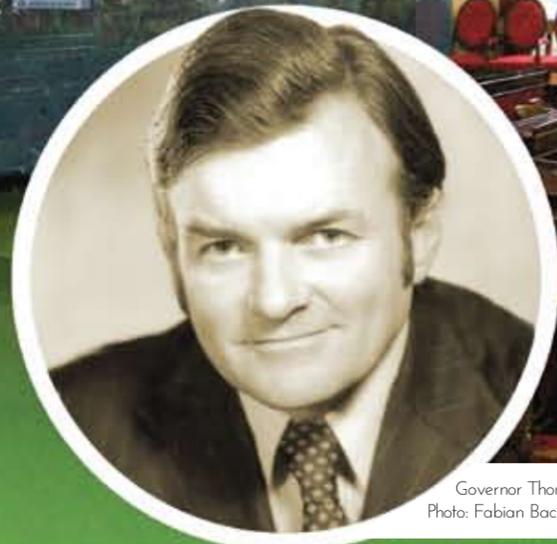

Identifying Municipal Housing Needs and Tools

VHFA's Policy and Planning staff visited several municipalities this year to assess their housing needs and identify tools and next steps toward addressing those needs. Much of this work was funded through the multi-year ECOS project organized by the Chittenden County Regional Planning Commission for which VHFA was a sub grantee. South Burlington, Williston, and Essex Junction were included in this effort and additional work was done with Cambridge and Jeffersonville. In each community, VHFA staff examined demographic and housing stock trends, gauged local housing costs and described planning tools that can be used at the local level to promote housing affordability. ■

VHFA's pro-active planning, financial support and teamwork with partner agencies paid off in FY 2013.

THE VHFA TIME LINE

VHFA is created by Act 260 of the Vermont General Assembly and signed into law by Governor Thomas P. Salmon on April 11. VHFA issues $13.8 million in single-family bonds, representing approximately 600 loans on October 3.

1975

Housing needs study shows need for 21,000 new or rehabilitated housing units.

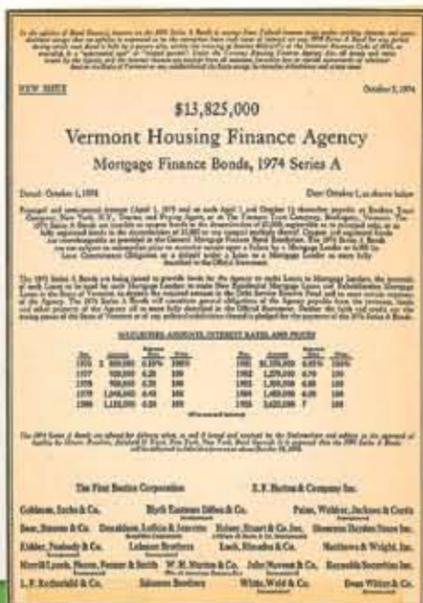

1976

VHFA receives a commitment of $1 million annually in Section 8 Rental Assistance funds.

1977

VHFA issues its first two multifamily bond series totaling more than $13 million, providing long-term financing for 445 senior housing units.

While conventional home mortgage loans made in the early 1970s were typically for 20 years, requiring 20 percent down payment, VHFA's first sale of bonds allowed it to provide 600 Vermont households with mortgages at about one percent lower than conventional rates, a 25 year term and as little as 5 percent down.

New loan types expand assistance to more Vermonters

Although the approach has been modified since VHFA's first home improvement loan in 1978, the Agency continues to help renovate Vermont's aging housing stock, now through the HARP program in which VHFA purchases foreclosed homes, renovates them, and sells them to qualified low-and moderate-income home buyers. Photo: VHFA files

VHFA partners with two lenders to deliver the Agency's first home improvement loans. The Agency commits $450,000 to the program, available at 7.5%.

1979

VHFA commits $2 million for energy conservation loans for 1,500 households.

1980

VHFA initiates the Graduated Payment Mortgage Program that allows borrowers smaller monthly payments in the early years of their loan.

1981

It's a challenging year for VHFA. Tax-exempt financing rates soar to 15%. Conventional rates end the year hovering near a high point of 17%.

Amidst rising conventional interest rates, VHFA continues to issue bonds for home mortgages and development of multifamily rental housing, winning AA ratings from Moody's and recognition as one of the strongest housing finance agencies in the country. VHFA's programs expand to meet more types of need while the federal government starts limiting its role by reducing the availability of Section 8 rental subsidies.

Navigating federal housing policy changes, VHFA continues fast pace of rental and home mortgage financing.

The apartments in the Wharf Lane building and Bobbin Mill complex were two of the ten affordable rental housing sites financed by VHFA in the early 1980s as part of the King Street Neighborhood Strategy Area program. The apartments at these two locations remain in the city's stock of affordable housing today thanks to the forward thinking preservation agreements VHFA negotiated with the building's owner in 2001. Vermont Housing Finance Agency Conducts Homeowner Survey

While many Vermonters are finding it increasingly more difficult to purchase their first home, it is not for lack of interest or motivation, according to a recent survey conducted by the Vermont Housing Finance Agency.

Late in January the VHFA sent questionnaires to 2,345 households who had contacted the VHFA's information hotline since August 1987. Completed questionnaires were received from 809 households, representing a high return rate for a mail questionnaire. The results were tabulated by the Center for Rural Studies at the University of Vermont.

The purpose of the study was to learn more about needs and preferences of potential home buyers. "We need to be well informed so that we can offer better assistance and more appropriately targeted mortgage programs," says Allan Hunt, Executive Director. "We already know the demand for affordable housing is great. If we can improve our understanding of the specific needs of the population we are trying to serve, we can develop better home ownership opportunities for low-and-moderate-income Vermonters."

Since July of 1987 more than 400 loans have been made under the VHFA's Mortgages for Vermonters (MOVE) program. The median household income of current VHFA borrowers is $26,820. Over 53 percent of the survey respondents and household incomes between $20,000 and $35,000. The median household income of survey respondents was approximately $22,500.

Other demographic data gathered are also typical of what we would expect to find among the first-time home buyer market. Most of the respondents young households—70 percent were under the age of 35. Many households did not have children (45.9 percent) and if they did they were more likely to be of a very young age. Most of the respondents currently are renters (71.6 percent) and many live in households it two or more full time wage earners (36 percent).

A majority of the respondents cited the high prices of real estate as the greatest difficulty they face in trying to buy a home, followed by accumulating the cash necessary to cover down payment and closing costs. Over 60 percent of the respondents expect to pay between $50,000 and $80,000; less than 10 percent expect to spend in excess of $80,000 to purchase their home.

Finally, the survey asked about willingness to attend sessions for the public on determining how much of a mortgage they could afford. The response was overwhelmingly positive throughout the state, with 92 percent saying they would be likely to attend a free seminar or workshop in their county.

VHFA shifts internal resources and creates a research and development arm to respond to housing needs and diminishing federal resources and support.

1987

Vermont Housing and Conservation Board legislatively created to prioritize funding for affordable housing, agriculture, land conservation and historic preservation.

With Vermont Energy Efficiency Corp., VHFA establishes Energy Rated Homes of Vermont, a rating system to help lower income and first-time home buyers avoid high energy costs.

VHFA founds Housing Vermont to help turn newly created federal Low-Income Housing Tax Credits into equity for housing development statewide.

Happy 40th Anniversary, VHFA!

On April 11, VHFA turns the big 4-0. During the past 40 years, VHFA has:

- Financed home purchases for 28,000 owner households
- Financed the development of homes for 8,500 renter households
- Supported construction or rehabilitation of 315 rental complexes
- Supported renovation of 73 foreclosed upon homes

...and much, much more!

 Homeownership Centers Provide Needed Services to Vermont Communities
 Burlington, Vermont. Homeownership is a dream that many people have but are unable to realize. As in many states across the U.S., homeownership is most often difficult for Vermonters with low to moderate incomes. The state of Vermont, faced with local agencies, has made a major effort to address the problem. The Vermont Housing Finance Authority, which has been a nonprofit organization to create homeownership centers to assist low- and moderate-income people trying to find and purchase affordable housing.
 The Vermont Housing Finance Authority identified that many of the state's low- to moderate-income people had trouble saving money for the down payment and closing costs—the first step in purchasing a home. Coupled with negative credit histories, lack of knowledge about the home buying process and the threat of foreclosure after purchasing a home, many of Vermont's poorest residents were locked out of the home buying market.
 The center provides a full range of housing services, including homebuyer education, housing counseling, first-time homebuyer assistance, down payment assistance, and credit counseling. More than 3,000 clients used a number of housing counseling services from the center since the 1999 inception of the first homeownership center. In addition, the center of homeownership centers has provided 10,000 hours of housing counseling services to 200,000 clients.

The largest statewide housing conference in Vermont's history is held in November by VHFA with support from partners and VHFA sponsors.

VHFA launches Rental Housing Codes website (www.rentalcodes.org) to provide guidance on the health and safety standards for rental housing in Vermont.

In response to pleas of support service agencies who work with low-income Vermonters, VHFA led the development of a single housing application for tenants faced with the multiple applications created by multiple apartment subsidies.

In April 2013, VHFA began to offer down payment and closing cost assistance grants through its MOVE ASSIST program and to borrowers who qualify for a VHFA first mortgage insured by USDA Rural Development or the Veterans Association.

The Interest on Real Estate Trust Account (IORTA)

The Interest on Real Estate Trust Account (IORTA) program is funded with the interest earned on earnest money and real estate contract deposits. Real estate brokers are required to put most of these deposits into pooled interest-bearing trust or escrow accounts and financial institutions are required to remit the interest made to Vermont Housing Finance Agency for use in its homeownership programs.

For 21 years, funds from the proceeds of IORTA have been dedicated to VHFA for homeownership mortgage down payment or closing cost assistance. During that time, more than 1,028 loans have been assisted with IORTA funds.

- Funds VHFA received in FY13 from IORTA accounts (i.e. deposits): $37,639. These funds will assist Home Ownership Center buyers with down payment or closing costs.
- Balance of IORTA funds in VHFA's accounts as of June 30, 2013: $114,986.

Rental Activity

Through funding for 13 projects in the state, VHFA facilitated the creation or rehabilitation of 430 affordable rental housing units this year.

The Agency provided long term fixed rate financing totaling $4.6 million to seven projects.

The Agency provided $7.3 million in construction short term financing to four projects.

Another $7.1 million was loaned to Bobbin Mill and Lamoille View apartments through the MacArthur Foundation.

Allocated Housing Credits in the amount of $745,000 were awarded to two projects, generating $5.9 million in equity to help create these housing units.

Over $500,000 in Bond Housing Credits were awarded to five projects which used tax exempt bond financing, generating $5.0 million in equity.

The multifamily housing financed by VHFA in FY13 created an estimated $100.1 million in economic activity across the state by creating and sustaining jobs and generating income for Vermont workers and businesses.

Housing Acquisition & Rehabilitation Program

This fiscal year VHFA completed its fourth year administering the Housing Acquisition and Rehabilitation Program (HARP). This program, which was originally created by the federal government as a part of the stimulus package (called Neighborhood Stabilization Program I, or NSP I) was launched in 2009 and was expanded with a new round of funding this fiscal year (NSP III).

As a part of this program, VHFA purchases foreclosed upon homes, rehabilitates them (including significant energy and weatherization upgrades to reduce the long-term operating costs of the homes), and provides a substantial down payment subsidy when the home is re-sold to a qualified lower income Vermont household. The homes remain perpetually affordable, and VHFA takes any proceeds from the sale of the home and re-invests them into another purchase. Through the HARP Program, VHFA has put nearly 1,500 construction and trades people to work over the past four years, while at the same time reinvigorating neighborhoods and communities where these homes might otherwise have become blighted run-down structures.

Through the end of FY13, VHFA has purchased 68 homes, with another five under contract. 52 homes have been rehabilitated and sold to homebuyers, eight more have been rehabilitated and are being marketed for sale, and 13 additional are undergoing rehabilitation now.

Household incomes for homebuyers assisted through NSP I ranged from approximately $18,000 to $70,000 with an average of $43,000. About 950 contractors employing almost 1,500 individuals have been directly employed by these programs. This does not take into account sub-contractors who are hired by those who work as general contractors. The actual number of people working on these homes is therefore likely to be much higher. This has been a key employment tool for this industry in the state. According to the surveys VHFA has requested from each contractor who is self-employed or a sole proprietor:

- Half of the contractors responding report household income lower than the county median income where they live.
- One-quarter reported they had no other significant work in progress at the time they were awarded their HARP home contracts.

Virtually every home that comes through the HARP program has undergone significant energy improvements, such as installation of high efficiency heating systems, energy star replacement windows, air sealing and insulation upgrades, hot water heaters, high efficiency kitchen appliances and light fixtures, and low flow toilets and showerheads.

Buyers benefit because HARP homes are priced to be affordable. Properties are sold for the lesser of the total acquisition/rehabilitation cost or the appraised value upon completion. Grants of up to $75,000 provided by the HARP program combined with major improvements and energy savings result in a truly and perpetually affordable home. The grants stay with the home from one owner to the next so that the home remains affordable for subsequent buyers.

The HARP program is funded through $9.9 million in Housing and Economic Recovery Act funds from the U.S. Department of Housing & Urban Development (HUD). The funds are part of the larger Neighborhood Stabilization Program administered by Vermont's Agency of Commerce and Community Development and HUD. ■

Through the HARP Program, VHFA has put nearly 1,500 construction and trades people to work.
