VHFA Program Training
VHFA Homeownership Programs

Program Overview

- VHFA is not a product. VHFA programs offer added benefit and features to an underlying Fannie Mae, RD, VA or FHA loan product:
  - Up to $5,000 in down payment and closing cost assistance.
  - Annual federal tax credit up to $2,000.
  - Reduced Vermont Property Transfer Tax with a savings up to $825.
  - When paired with a conventional product there are no loan level pricing adjustments and access to charter level mortgage insurance coverage rates.

- All VHFA first mortgage programs are paired with an underlying conventional or government product and must be salable on the secondary market to Fannie Mae, Freddie Mac or Ginnie Mae. U.S. Bank is the master servicer.

- VHFA ASSIST can only be accessed with a VHFA first mortgage program.

- Standalone VHFA MCC can be paired with any product approved by the lender.

ASSIST down payment and closing cost loan

What is it?

- Down payment and closing cost assistance loan.
- Up to $5,000:
  - Cannot exceed 105% CLTV.
  - Other assistance or seller contribution must be applied to down payment and closing costs first.

How does it work?

- Lender will reserve ASSIST funds at the same time the first mortgage reservation is complete.
- Lender will table fund the ASSIST loan and be reimbursed by VHFA upon post-closing approval and purchase of first mortgage by U.S. Bank.
- Borrower will sign a disclosure, note and deed at closing.
- Closing attorney to send the original note and deed to VHFA immediate after closing.
- VHFA will record the deed and is the servicing and investor for ASSIST post-closing.
- Borrower repays ASSIST upon (a) sale or (b) payoff or refinance of the original debt.
What is it?

- Feature available Up to 30% of mortgage interest paid annually as a tax credit vs. a deduction
- Remaining 70% of the mortgage interest paid annually may be taken as a deduction
- A year over year benefit as long as the consumer lives in the home and holds the original first mortgage

Q: Why is a credit better than a deduction?

A: A tax credit is a dollar for dollar reduction in tax liability and can be used even when deductions aren’t itemized!

Example

- $150k loan amount
- 4.75% rate
- $7,075 annual interest paid

=$2,122.50 (30% of annual interest)
=$2,000 tax credit (IRS cap of $2,000)
All consumers who obtain a VHFA first mortgage program (ADVANTAGE, MOVE or MOVE MCC) benefit from waived or reduced VT Property Transfer Tax:

Federal Recapture Tax

What is federal recapture tax?
MOVE, MOVE MCC and MCC include federal tax benefits for borrowers. As a result, in certain circumstances, the federal government may recapture a portion of the benefit.

Will recapture tax be owed?
Recapture occurs if all three (3) of the following conditions exist:
   a) home is sold in less than nine (9) years from the purchase date,
   b) the home sale results in a profit, and
   c) combined adjusted gross income for borrower and non-borrower spouse exceeds maximum income* for recapture at the time of sale recapture tax may be owed.

How is recapture calculated?
The recapture tax owed is calculated by comparing three (3) different calculations and taking the lowest of the three: (a) 6.25% of the original principal balance, (b) 50% of the profit on the sale or (c) IRS recapture tax computation detailed in the Recapture of Federal Mortgage Subsidy Form 8828 instructions. Any tax filer who purchased a home with a mortgage revenue bond program like MOVE, MOVE MCC and MCC must complete and file IRS Form #8828 upon sale or disposal of the home.

Reimbursement of recapture tax paid
If recapture tax is owed and paid upon the sale of a VHFA financed home, the tax paid may be eligible for reimbursement by VHFA. To request reimbursement complete and send the Recapture Tax Reimbursement Form to VHFA with all documents requested. The request must be received no later than December 31 of the calendar year following the tax year in which the tax was owed and paid.

*Maximum income for recapture changes annually, a disclosure is provided at the time of closing that includes a maximum income grid, for detail on what the current income thresholds please contact a VHFA Participating Lender.
